Participation in Petro-Bowl

Shaine Muhammad Ali Lalji is the Lecturer in Department of Petroleum Engineering, NEDUET and presently studying at Norwegian University of Science (NTNU), Norway. He represented NTNU in the SPE’s event Petro Bowl (Petro Bowl is a question-based competition, related to technical and non-technical aspects of the oil and gas industry) at Stavanger, Norway held on 13th April 2016. The team from NTNU consists of five students and they reached up-to the quarterfinals.