

Job Description

Full Stack Team Lead would be responsible for leading the development effort using technologies such as Flutter, Angular, and Java.

Responsibilities

Writing code.

Collaborating with front end and back end developers for developing rapid prototype concepts and gathering feedback metrics.

Working closely with leadership and product strategy team.

Understanding requirements from Product Manager and recommending solutions.

Evaluating technology alternatives and recommending design improvement.

Conducting peer code reviews.

Evaluating existing architectures for effectiveness and advising on architecture for newer features on current platforms.

Providing technical engineering advice and guidance to junior team members.

Manage and track progress towards the release of a product to ensure an on-time and successful release of the product.

Requirements:

3 - 4 years' prior industry-related experience.

Must have Advanced JAVA programming skills.

Familiarity with global industry best practices.

Good verbal and written communication skills.

Monitors and works with internal teams to manage product.

Leadership experience; taking a project from start to finish.

Good knowledge and understanding of web frameworks.

Good knowledge of database design and architecture.

Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science, IT, MS in IT or similar field.

Proven knowledge and execution of successful development strategies.

Ability to think analytically and troubleshoot technical issues.

Experience in communicating with external customers and enterprise partners.

Manage projects while completing goals and deadlines.

In-depth knowledge of Agile process and principles.

Outstanding communication, presentation, and leadership skills.

Excellent organizational and time management skills.

Hands-on experience managing all stages of the product life cycle.

Solid technical background with knowledge of software development and web technologies.

BenchMatrix >

WE'RE HIRING

IT Team Lead for Mobile Development

3+ Years of Relevant Experience Required

Apply at: benchmatrix.com/careers/

LAST DATE TO APPLY: 31st Jan 2022