

IMRAN AHMED SIDDIQUI
CONSUL GENERAL OF PAKISTAN, TORONTO

Mr. Imran Ahmed Siddiqui has served as Desk Officer (China), Director (United Nations) and Director (Human Rights and United Nations Security Council) at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Joint Secretary to the National Security Adviser, at National Security Division.

A graduate of Harvard Kennedy School, Mr. Siddiqui also served as Pakistan's expert at the Permanent Mission of Pakistan to the United Nations, New York and later as Deputy Permanent Representative to the Jeddah based Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC) as well as the Deputy Consul General at the Consulate General of Pakistan, Jeddah.

Mr. Siddiqui has attended several sessions of the UN General Assembly, UN Security Council, Human Rights Council and High-Level meetings of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC) as well as Non-Aligned Movement (NAM) in various capacities. He joined the Consulate General of Pakistan, Toronto on 21 July 2016 as Consul General.

Mr. Siddiqui launched Canada Pakistan Research & Development Council (CPRDC) in collaboration with Pakistan origin Canadian scientists in 2017. Under his guidance, the Consulate General of Pakistan, Toronto and CPRDC are, inter alia, engaged in promoting linkages between Pakistani and Canadian academic and research institutions.