Generation Google Scholarship

Check the link below for information

With support from Google.org, the Generation Google Scholarship aims to help aspiring students pursuing computer science degrees excel in technology and become leaders in the field.

This application includes:

- Generation Google Scholarship: for women in computer science (Asia Pacific/APAC)
- Generation Google Scholarship (Canada & United States/North America)
- Generation Google Scholarship: for women in computer science (Europe, Middle East, Africa/EMEA)
- Generation Google Scholarship: for women in computer science in Ireland

Please visit the links above for more details and eligibility requirements. Your region is based on the location of the college or university, and not your permanent residence, current residence, or citizenship.